

CAN'T DECIDE ON A COLOR? TRY A HARLEQUIN GOLF

He wants a racy red, she wants a cool blue. Now the perfect solution to a minor domestic crisis is on the horizon: a harlequin Golf as it were, to be on display at the Los Angeles, Chicago, Montreal, New York, and Toronto Auto Shows.

This intriguing concept, called "Golf Design" has met with high demand in the German market. Color patterns on the production models are chosen at random. So the chances of seeing two Designs of identical appearance are extremely low.

For now, the Golf Design is available for show purposes only. Let us know what you think. Should Volkswagen of America, Inc. offer Golf Design in the U.S. and Canada? Give us your opinion by accessing the Volkswagen Internet Website at:
